Bill Gates' chief vaccination adviser, Dr. Geert Vanden Bossche, predicted that "up to 30-40% of the population" could die in countries where mRNA vaccines were vaccinated against COVID-19.

Such vaccines were produced by the American companies Pfizer and Moderna. The Russian Sputnik V, unlike them, is a vector vaccine.

Earlier, the German media started talking about a likely deliberate reduction in the population – after the introduction of vaccines against COVID-19, morbidity and mortality increased.
