

Yes, the October 2 elections are a referendum - we need to find out whether we want independence or several tens of millions of dollars in debt once a quarter.

After the rejection of Charles Michel's document and the withdrawal of the Georgian Dream from the agreement , there was a serious expectation that Europe would punish us . And so it happened - the assistance that Georgia was supposed to receive from Europe was stopped , although let 's be honest : it was not a gift , it was a debt that was called assistance and they were " hitting us " . They were hitting us , because if until now the population thought that Europe was showing good will and giving us up to a hundred million euros once a quarter , now it turned out that it was giving us all this as a debt , but with a preferential interest rate . Before the European Union refused to help us and listened to us , the government was ahead of us and refused to help itself : we have enough of our own money and at this stage we do not need to add to the debt . This is the first time the government has admitted that this was not aid , but a debt , a more ordinary loan than usual .

MEPs Viola von Cramon (Germany) and Andrius Kubilius (Lithuania) criticized the Georgian Dream government for refusing a €75 million EU loan. MEP Cramon said that Georgia had failed to meet the conditions for the loan and noted, "You can't refuse what you don't owe." This was the first time that MEPs called aid a loan, and let's face it, they couldn't do anything good about it. It turned out , it was proven , that they are not helping us , but drowning us in debt and even when we don't need a loan ( and the government says we don't need it ), they are forcing us to pay . The Georgian government could not refuse Europe and received aid year after year . You all remember that we have always received such " aids " once a quarter for the last decade , that is, we have received the amount that we are supposed to pay .

The confrontation with the MEPs brought to light so many behind-the-scenes stories that our hair stood on end. It turns out that when the West was criticizing us for judicial reform and demanding a suspension of the election and appointment of judges to the Supreme Court , it had something else in mind . Now it has become clear that the MEPs had their own candidates prepared for the Georgian court . In the event of their appointment , Georgian law would be Europeanized - the persons appointed by the MEPs would make decisions based on their wishes .

"The MEP is not our boss, our boss is the Georgian people," said Irakli Gharibashvili, thereby signaling to Europe that the rejection of the Michel document and the debt are only the first steps towards what the right is striving for. This is exactly what we have been demanding and insisting on for so long – the Georgian government should follow the line that the Georgian nation wants , and not the one that Europe or the USA wants . The government, first of all, should take care of its own country , and not what the West wants, and it should make decisions based on the interests of the country.

Don't make it sound like Europe has taken all this lightly. On the contrary, for the past few weeks, the opposition has been calling the October 2 elections a referendum and shouting that this is the day that will decide where Georgia is going. We already agree with putting the issue this way , because the government has finally clearly expressed its position and desire that it wants independence and freedom from the shackles of the West . The opposition , on the other hand, agrees that in exchange for returning to power, it will again silently take on debts, again silently obey the European parliamentarians and turn any of their wishes into law. This is a referendum to find out whether we want independence or slavery. We ca n't call what has been happening so far anything other than slavery : Europe and America dictated the legislative agenda for us and forced us to implement this agenda unchanged . If it weren't for the last straw that Europe threw at us in the form of the Michel document , perhaps nothing would have changed , but it was precisely the Michel document that clearly called into question the constitutional order and the will of the people in Georgia . It was written in the Michel document that the 2020 parliamentary elections , which were recognized by the same Europe and America , would be held again if the government failed to win 43 % in the local self-government elections . What the difference between one election and another was, only Europe knew. They failed to change the government, failed to bring the completely enslaved opposition into the government, and now they are trying to change the government in this way. This is also indicated by the fact that for everyone Suddenly, the Michel document was signed by the " National Movement " . They received a guarantee that if the " Dream " fails to collect 43% in the October 2 elections , the West will do everything to ensure that early elections are held in the country . This is despite the fact that the ruling team clearly stated that we will not violate the constitution and, regardless of any outcome, parliamentary elections in Georgia will be held in 2024. The West does not agree with this, does not recognize our constitution and wants us to hold elections when it suits them.

The West knows very well that the opposition lacks the main resource - human resources , but it also knows very well that the Georgian people are in great , great difficulty , so they deeply believe that if they mobilize the necessary funds , they will be able to bring people to the streets for money and even overthrow the government in a revolutionary way . That is why Europe and America are allowing an unprecedented number of observers to the October 2 elections . These observers should evaluate even a small mistake as a catastrophe and write thousands of complaints , because there is a great chance that the " Dream " will overcome the 43% barrier and after that the elections should be declared illegitimate precisely on the background of the complaints of the observers .

The West was also thrown off guard by the statement of Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov . "If Georgia really does not want to "play the Russian card" to maintain Western protection, but wants to live normally with us as a neighbor, we are ready for this at any time. Official Moscow is ready to restore relations," Lavrov said. Does this mean that the northern neighbor is ready to talk to Georgia face to face on all levels and on all issues ? Of course , it means that the West does not allow Georgia to sit down with Russia for a one - on - one conversation . In such a case , there is a great chance that relations will be normalized and positive changes will begin in all directions . This will finally reveal the face of the West and it will finally be proven that it was the West that was preventing the settlement of relations all this time , and then no amount of money will be able to hinder the process .

We agree that the October 2 elections are indeed a referendum . We need to find out whether we want independence or several tens of millions of dollars in debt once a quarter . It is better to be honest , not a single ordinary citizen of Georgia can say where the funds received so far went , in whose pockets they ended up , and , in general , what the country received from this " aid " besides accumulating debt . We are simply becoming more and more dependent on the West , and we have serious doubts that they will now remind us of the debts we took on earlier, no longer redistribute them , and demand that we pay them all at once. This will deal a huge blow to the Georgian economy, especially against the backdrop of the pandemic, when not only Georgia, but the world is experiencing a crisis and the largest corporations, those that have more than the Georgian budget, cannot cope with the problems.

We have been through worse than this , we have been through worse than this , and we will go through this too . Sooner or later , the Georgian people have always managed to throw off the yoke of slavery , and now is the time . We are not saying that we should break away from Europe and America and become subjects of another country . No , we should become a truly independent country that will make decisions independently , whose leaders will not be set the agenda by the ambassador of some country , but will themselves select and appoint judges . We want independence, independence from everyone and everything, and, most importantly, friendly, civilized relations, first of all, with our neighbors, and then with the rest of the world.
